CEUs have been applied for with the Iowa Board of Certification.

Whether it is a training on a new drug trend, facilitating a parenting class, leading a coalition training, or presenting about youth survey data to the Board of Health, the ability to engage and educate adult audiences is likely an important part of your work in substance misuse and gambling prevention.

Let's move beyond just hoping no one's eyes glaze over! How can you make the most impact? How can you present the information in a way that lets people make connections and take action on new information?

This training will offer key insights into:

- Key elements that help you plan for success
- Adult learning theory (how do adults engage, take in, interact with and act on new information)
- Ideas and tips for making presentations and trainings more interactive

Please come prepared to interact with the material, join the discussion and get lots of follow-up resources to dig deeper into these topics.
